Grooming is a great way of showing affection and reinforcing the bond between you and your pet

Regular bathing using the right product is part of being a responsible and loving pet owner

Pets do not sweat through their coats; they regulate their body temperature through panting and also sweating through their eyes, ears and pads so it is important to clean your dog thoroughly to inhibit bacterial build-up

Just as with people, a frequent hygiene routine is about more than just keeping clean - it can help us spot health issues too

Bathing can help prevent skin problems

For best results you should shampoo your dog twice to maximise benefits to coat and skin.

Regular use of our wipes and bathing can help prevent infections saving you money on veterinary bills

All our wipes contain a natural preservative against bacteria and yeast therefore are perfect for removing debris, loose hair and bacteria

Matter and tear stains around the eyes can be reduced by using our handy Eye and Ear Wipes daily. They are also great for removing wax build-up in the external ear canal

John Paul Pet™ sprays are safe to use with spot on flea treatments

Dog and cats coat and skin pH level is 7.4 opposed to humans which is 5.5

Using our Tooth and Gum Wipes in between dental checkups helps fight against tooth and gum disease, the second biggest killer of cats and dogs.
